As an extra added attraction and as this is a preliminary warmup for those of us traveling north later in the year, freak snowstorms will be permitted for exclusive use of practice skiing.

Ok what you need to do from the north is to get on M0 PAC take the lake austin blvd exit, go straight thru the light(n=?) get back on M0 PAC cross the river and then M0 Pac ends onto a frontage road. If you journey from the east take Barton Sprgs Rd to M0 Pac and turn left onto the frontage road. The frontage road T's into Bee Caves Rd. Take a right onto Bee Caves and after about 1 nano-second take the VERY first left (very important sports fans to take that 1st left - it is not a street - it looks like a very nice alley.) The party room should be the first thing you see/hear as you climb the hill (yes you are still in your car) into the apartment complex and it is on your immediate right. If you can't find your way in it is probably all for the better because u won't be able to find your way out!
